Snow Hampers Search Party

SEARCHERS for missing aircraft emerge after tramping snow-blanketed woods near Jarvis. In most places, searchers moved abreast 25 to 100 yards apart. Snow hampered both ground and air searches. Yellow fall colors make spotting yellow plane difficult. Plane went missing with five hunters aboard Saturday night. Heading back for hot meal and rest at Red Cross headquarters are Dave Williams, Larry Hughes, Eddie Weiss and L. Edmonds, all of Edmonton. Search will concentrate on Lac La Biche today.

Markets In Brief

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Intrastock climbed fractionally to new high ground for the fourth successive session on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Demand was strong and the volume was 3,400,000 shares.

Stocks were the leaders with Algoma, Atlas, Canadian Car, Dominion Foundry and Canadian Iron Foundries reaching new 1950 highs. Papers, recent big gainers, held the industrial board with losses up to a point.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Gains and losses were about evenly divided on the Montreal Stock Exchange and curb market late today.

However, a few strong spots gave the market a lift. Moves in either direction were mostly small fractions, with a few issues moving around a point or more.

Trading was active and volume near the close showed industries with 116,350 shares traded and minor 288,500 shares.

U.K. Sends Shoes

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(Reuters)—Britain now is exporting 2,500 pairs of shoes a month to Canada, Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, said yesterday.

$1 MILLION AUTOS BRING $2,000 EACH

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Twenty-six Tucker automobiles, hailed as dream cars when first announced to the public, sold at auction yesterday for an average of $2,000 apiece. Each of the 26 cars cost more than $1,000,000 to produce—figuring on the basis of $28,000,000 spent by the Tucker Corporation in its unsuccessful attempt to mass-produce the novel auto. Fifteen of the re-engine cars are in running order; 11 have no transmissions.

Allies Drive Into Reds' Capital City

Yanks and South Koreans Smash Into Pyongyang

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Allied armored columns blasted their way into Communist Pyongyang from two sides today.

They linked up and drove toward the heart of the capital of Red Korea.

Only a few snipers and other die-hard Communists stood before the swift advance of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division and South Korean 1st Division. Behind the cavalry elements were four United Nations divisions, and the Commonwealth brigade composed of British and Australian troops.

FIRST INTO CITY

First into the city was the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division which had been first also into Manila and Tokyo during the Second World War. The troopers smashed into Pyongyang from the south, the Republic of Korea (ROK) forces from the east.

Linking up, they occupied the east half of the capital and began pouring across the Taedong river flowing through the city's center from the northeast.

Thousands of frightened Reds surrendered.

A team of four AP war correspondents entered Pyongyang with both divisions.

"EASY CONQUEST"

"This was an easy conquest—nothing like the bitter battle for Seoul waged by the Reds," reported AP correspondent Don Whited.

"Either the Communists had lost their will to fight for the city or the Americans moved so fast they had no chance to group a defense force.

"The entire eastern half of the city is held by Americans and South Koreans and these United Nations forces are pouring across the Taedong river into the western half of the city with little opposition."

The cavalry troopers won a roaring race with the South Korean 1st Division to be the first into the city. Next of Premier Kim Il Sung's Soviet-sponsored regime.

LEAVE ONE BRIDGE

Whitehead reported the Communists dynamited two bridges across the Taedong river, but failed to blow up a third. The Allied forces streamed across the undamaged span.

A U.S. Eight Army spokesman said today that both sides had to saddle into Pyongyang and that fighting continued. Escape roads to the north were reported jammed.

"We haven't captured Pyongyang yet, but everything seems to be going along all right," he added.

Number Listed As Deserters

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—Army officials in Ottawa report that more than 700 members of Canada's United Nations force are absent without leave.

An army spokesman says a number of the men are listed as deserters because they have been missing for 21 days or more. The spokesman would not say how many of them have been missing that long.

Reports are circulating in Ottawa that more than 100 of the missing men have been written off as deserters.

However, officials at the defence department say no statement will be issued. No figures will be given out immediately.

CALGARY, Oct. 19.—(CP)—The oil hunt in Canada now should be for new fields rather than in those already proven, C. L. Stewart, president of Imperial Oil Ltd., said today in an address prepared for the Calgary Canadian

Alberta Oil Hits Regina

Alberta oil is pouring into Regina by pipeline. Crude oil which was sent on its 430-mile journey Oct. 4 reached the Saskatchewan capital at noon today, Interprovincial Pipe Line Company announced.

Premier T. C. Douglas will open a valve in a ceremony in the Regina pump station to start crude deliveries into the tanks or refineries there.

Meanwhile the line from here to Regina will be tested by building up pressure in the system.

PIG AT REGINA

The "pig" which started from Edmonton with the first oil reached Kerbert about a week ago. A new pig was put in the line at the pump station there and it reached Regina at noon today.

Storage tanks being built at Regina by Interprovincial will be finished soon. Until then, deliveries to the Consumers' Group and Imperial Oil refineries will be made by rail from the pipeline, at the rate of 30,000 barrels a day.

The pipeline company is building two 24,000-barrel tanks for storage at Stony Beach to serve the British American refinery at Moose Jaw, which is expected to take 5,000 barrels daily.

CALIFORNIA, Ala., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A huge posse estimated at one time at more than 1,000 men searched through the night for a heavy boy allegedly about a small valley boy to death after raping the child's mother.

The mother, Mrs. Kathleen Holley, 37, was shot twice and beaten on the head with a large rock. She was seriously wounded but was reported improving today in hospital.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(UP)—The Washington Redskins discovered today that signing former North Carolina football star Choo-Choo Charley Justice has its complications.

City Woman Gets $1,000 In Damages

The little boy who wasn't there decided the outcome of a $1,000 lawsuit in Supreme Court yesterday.

The sum was awarded to the boy's mother, Mrs. Florence Whitehouse, 154-115 avenue, for damages received when she broke her ankle last April, 1949.

It all started when her neighbor, Norman Gray, then of Camp 50, caught the boy climbing his fence. He scolded him and Mrs. Whitehouse watched from inside her house, standing on a couch for a better view.

FELL OFF COUCH
Mr. Gray threw a stone. But it wasn't the boy who ducked. It was his mother and it made her fall off the couch and break her ankle.

Yesterday, a year and a half later, the Alberta Supreme Court ruled the boy was innocent when the rock was thrown and that his mother, standing at the window, was the only available target.

Justice C. C. McLean rejected Gray's defence that he aimed at the boy and decided the suit in Mrs. Whitehouse's favor.

Synod Aids Bible School

SYLVAN LAKE, Oct. 19.—Synod of the Presbyterian Church in Alberta yesterday decided to raise $10,000 to cover operations of the new Medicine Hat Bible school.

The synod made their decision at the second day of a three-day meeting at Memorial Church in Sylvan Lake. Funds would aid the bible school until May 31, 1951, when the general assembly would assume all financial management.

Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was conducted by Rev. W. B. Bell, moderator, Rev. W. B. Bell of Knox church, Red Deer, assisted by Rev. C. H. Marsh of Rocky Mountain House.

The sermon was given by Rev. H. McEwen, of Strathcona church in Edmonton. Addressing the evening session was Rev. J. L. Clark, general secretary of the Sunday Schools and young people for Canada.

Painter Puts City On Canvas

There's a fellow in Edmonton who is up high again to paint the clouds with sunshine but he doesn't seem to be getting results. He is former Edmonton artist David Anderson and he's using the windproof traffic device on the high level bridge for a vantage point.

Holidaying around Edmonton, where he lived for many years, painter-etcher Anderson has been working and teaching art in New York where he plans to return.

He says the high level is not so good because soot and cinders from trains settle on his equipment.

New Fields Urged By Oil Official

fields is becoming increasingly costly as the search expands into the less-accessible areas towards the northern limits of Alberta and into northeastern British Columbia.

"Further, any oil that may be found in these remote areas will have to be done to make certain that the reserves are adequate to warrant the building of pipelines."

DELINEATION DRILLING
"Before pipelines can be justified, delineation drilling will have to be done to make certain that the reserves are adequate to warrant the building of pipelines."

"It is possible that some of the remote areas may require expenditures of perhaps $20,000,000 to $50,000,000 before a single barrel of oil is piped to market...."

"Continuation of delineation drilling in new discoveries could exploit oil capital so vital to a continued expansion of the industry. This is a problem requiring the attention of both government and industry."

Looking to new markets, Mr. Stewart said in part:

INCREASE CAPACITY
"Probably the first step is for the International Pipe Line Company to increase the capacity of the line from Edmonton to the Gulf of Mexico by the addition of pump stations and by further expansion of the line in order that the line may operate at full capacity the year round."

"Another major project mentioned is the Pacific Coast pipeline, which is being studied by the company. This has been under study for some time."

"A factual appraisal shows that the oil requirements for oil in British Columbia are considerably short of the volume needed to support pipeline construction through the Rocky Mountains, and that the project cannot be justified unless sufficient volume is secured by entering Washington and Oregon markets."

CALIFORNIA CRUDE
"This entire northern coastal area of Canada and the United States has been traditionally dependent on California crude and largely on California refining capacity. In fact, California produces 30,000 barrels daily of refining capacity in the entire area, compared to a demand in excess of 250,000 barrels a day."

"The availability in the area of crude oil at an economic cost should be a stimulus for additional refining construction. Such a pipeline movement would give access to the Vancouver area which now is inaccessible because of high transport costs."

"Looking still further ahead, there is the possibility of extending the market eastward to Montreal where there is today no direct oil movement from the west. Such a pipeline movement would give access to the Vancouver area which now is inaccessible because of high transport costs."

Focal Point In Search For Lost Plane Shifted

the air force to search zones in the Athabasca area.

Weather hampered search planes in some areas and forced them to return to Edmonton. The planes were sent again to weather clearing in other areas.

Two reports of a plane being heard overhead in the area are the basis for the search. All other reports have so far been followed up unsuccessfully.

No clues were turned up yesterday in the Dapp-Varie area, 40 miles north of Edmonton, central point of the ground search. Searchers are worked through bush country and interviewed local residents.

Searchers in the area were accompanied by Joe Harrison, Edmonton hunter who had earlier reported seeing a plane, answering the description of the missing craft, circling low over the area Saturday evening.

Planes today will also re-search the Grande Prairie-Edmonton air route north of the plane was travelling when it was last seen Saturday night in bad weather. The Grande Prairie end of the route will receive particular attention.

Reports from the Lac La Biche area came from George Chas. Chas. railroad sectionhand at Norval, and Miss Talm, weather observer at Norval. Both heard an aircraft overhead, whether above or below the plane was not stated.

A first plane today will fly low over the lake and may lead to further investigations. The plane was last seen Saturday night in bad weather. The Grande Prairie end of the route will receive particular attention.

BE SURE YOUR NAME IS ON LIST

All taxpayers and electors were urged today to make sure their names are included in the voters list for the Nov. 3 election.

Junior Chamber of Commerce president George Borden today called on all taxpayers and electors to check the lists today or tomorrow, because the court of revision ends its sittings Friday night at 10 o'clock.

Last night's sitting of the court was the busiest since the court opened Oct. 13. Eight taxpayers had their names added to the voters list, bringing the total to 10,000.

Angry as waters already had torn away city docks and one section of seawall collapsed. Many roads and bridges were washed out or were under water.

In three South Florida counties—Dade, Broward and Palm Beach—storm damage was tentatively estimated at $5,000,000 by the chief storm forecaster, Grady Norton. He said it would rise as more complete reports came in. Newspaper estimates were as high as $8,000,000 for Greater Miami alone.

Florida's big citrus and winter vegetable business was hard hit. Nearly 15,000 acres of vegetables worth more than $2,000,000 were destroyed. Grapefruit losses in the Indian River section were mostly 30 per cent but as high as 80 per cent in one section.

At Orlando, a $500,000 hangar at the air base. The storm drove Mrs. Owen Adams of West Hollywood and two unidentified persons. Mrs. Adams was killed when the Indian River section was mostly 30 per cent but as high as 80 per cent in one section.

Millions Of Dollars Lost In Florida Hurricane

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 19.—(AP).—High tides tore at Florida beaches and seawalls today, only a few hours after a hurricane ripped the length of the state and fazed down to squall size as it edged into Georgia.

Three Floridians died in the blow. Property and crop damage was well up in the millions of dollars. The force of the storm lapped steadily from the 116-mile-an-hour punch it handed Miami at Tuesday midnight. Still it was the worst in years for many north and central Florida cities.

Today's battle scene was along the miles of east coast reported to be the worst in years for many north and central Florida cities. Today's battle scene was along the miles of east coast reported to be the worst in years for many north and central Florida cities.

Angry as waters already had torn away city docks and one section of seawall collapsed. Many roads and bridges were washed out or were under water.

In three South Florida counties—Dade, Broward and Palm Beach—storm damage was tentatively estimated at $5,000,000 by the chief storm forecaster, Grady Norton. He said it would rise as more complete reports came in. Newspaper estimates were as high as $8,000,000 for Greater Miami alone.

Florida's big citrus and winter vegetable business was hard hit. Nearly 15,000 acres of vegetables worth more than $2,000,000 were destroyed. Grapefruit losses in the Indian River section were mostly 30 per cent but as high as 80 per cent in one section.

Uniform Taxation Basis Advocated

Taxes Should Be Same For Detweiler, Asserts Eaton

Edmonton's proposed $28,000,000 civic center project should be on exactly the same basis of taxation as business and property owners, president John David Eaton of T. Eaton Co. Ltd., said here today.

In Edmonton from Toronto on a tour of the city's western departmental stores, Mr. Eaton said the following statement concerning the proposed civic center development:

"On the question of the proposed Miracle Mile, while it is our pleasure to see Edmonton increasing in population and facilities for the public, we are still of the belief that all business people, from the small corner grocer to the largest office building in the city, are entitled to the same taxation, to the same basis of taxation, and therefore assume that all business would be granted the same taxation privileges as are being granted to the proposed Miracle Mile.

"At any time, and particularly at a time of recession, these taxation grants would, of necessity, become a heavy burden on the home owner, even if the city does not grant established businesses who have, ever since the beginning of Edmonton, supported its charities and built 'A streets'.

VOTE NOV. 1

The Miracle Mile project will be voted on by Edmontonian taxpayers at the civic election on Nov. 1. Mr. Eaton said that Edmonton is looked upon as "one of the best business centres in the west."

With President Eaton on his visit to Edmonton are: R. S. MacKendrick, Winnipeg vice-president of the company; G. M. Eaton, Winnipeg; and W. Park, Toronto, director of the company. The officials are conferring here today with Manager J. M. Wildman of the Edmonton store.

Volleyball League Organized By RC

A men's volleyball league is being organized by the Recreation Commission. Jack Reilly, supervisor of Athletics for the commission, said the league is open to all teams in the city. RCMD gym will be available for games, and there will be no entry or other fees.

BOTH BYLAWS "It is essential to pass both bylaws," said Oliver McIntyre, president of the Chamber of Commerce. They should be incorporated into the city charter.

Asked for comment about the Chamber suggestion, Mayor Parsons said today commissioners are considering it seriously but have reached no decision yet. He said there is considerable merit in it, but until the Board of Public Utility Commissioners have decided on the money by-laws picture and rendered a decision on which ones can be submitted to the ratepayers, it would be premature for city commissioners to endorse formally the Chamber idea.

Chamber Will Hear McCann

A special general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Oct. 23 to hear Hon. J. J. McCann, minister of national revenue and minister of mines and technical surveys. It will be a luncheon meeting in the Chamber.

HUNTER E. R. ALLEMAN

One-Man Hunt Staged After Series Of Shots

A one-man search for the private aircraft, down in the northern bush since Saturday, was carried out Tuesday in the Jarvie area by hunter E. R. Alleman.

Steele Lake when I heard about 14 shots in the woods," he said yesterday. "I didn't pay much attention at the time, but when I got home and read about the missing plane in the paper, I remembered the shots."

"They didn't sound like sporting shots because they were fired at too regular intervals," he said. "I sure wish I'd fired three shots in answer."

Tuesday he returned to the area and criss-crossed through the heavy timber.

"I didn't see anything or hear any more shots, but you could walk within a few yards of a crashed plane in that timber and not see it," said Mr. Alleman, who is an experienced woodsman and expert marksman.

The air force said last night an aircraft would be instructed to fly over the area and search it carefully.

Diplomat Blamed For Spy Success

Ambassador To Turkey Said Responsible For Security Slips

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(Reuters)—Foreign Secretary Bevin yesterday blamed Britain's wartime ambassador in Turkey for letting some of the war's biggest secrets slip into Nazi hands.

He did not name the envoy—Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen now retired—in his House of Commons statement.

Bevin gave Parliament official confirmation of the most extraordinary story of the Second World War: that the ambassador's valet photographed top-secret documents and sold the films to Berlin.

He said the valet "would not have been able to do this if the ambassador had continued to re-examine governing secret documents."

CAREER DIPLOMAT

Knatchbull-Hugessen, 64, a former career diplomat, taught, refused comment, except to say the incident "certainly took place."

Bevin said that among the films were references to "Operation Overlord," the Allied invasion of Northwest Europe in June, 1944.

The story was revealed in a book, "Operation Cleopatra," published recently by Ludwig Morhaag, a Vienna official at the German embassy at Ankara during the war.

AN ALBANIAN

Morhaag said the valet, an Albanian, was known to the Germans by the code name of "Cleopatra." He had offered to sell "the most secret documents in the world."

The Germans said what Knatchbull-Hugessen had said the leader of Israel's Progressive Party to try to form a caretaker government pending new elections in the country's first cabinet crisis.

Weizman extended the invitation to Pinchas Rosen, present justice minister, last night, after Premier David Ben Gurion had stated that he was reluctant to continue as head of the outgoing government.

Ben Gurion's proposal that he himself form a one-party caretaker regime was defeated in the Knesset (parliament). His government founded when the Orthodox Party withdrew support on economic and religious issues.

GETTING GUY Donald O'Connor in true western style in Universal-International's new western comedy, "Curtain Call at Cactus Creek." In lovely Gale Storm, Technicolor film, O'Connor's first since hilarious "Francis," begins Friday at Rialto theatre. Eve Arden, Walter Brennan and Vincent Price also star.

O'Connor of 'Francis' Hit Stars In Western Comedy

Donald O'Connor's amazing versatility, which in Hollywood amazes even show-business veterans, gets an all-out non-stop workout in his latest film, "Curtain Call at Cactus Creek," opening Friday at the Rialto Theatre.

The new western comedy is O'Connor's first film since his smash success in "Francis," and in it he shares roles with lovely Gale Storm.

Walter Brennan, Vincent Price and comedienne Eve Arden also receive star billing along with O'Connor and Miss Storm. Cowboys, Indians, bandits, miners and other rugged individuals of the Old West as it was in Arizona Territory during the 1870s, are included in the strong supporting cast.

With the exception of Brennan, the sensational bank robber of the time, the four stars are seen as members of a theatrical group, making their way through the southwest by stagecoach.

Price is the scenery-chewing star of the show, O'Connor is his stagestruck fastidious, understudy, property man, press agent and just about anything else one might think of.

HOBBES, N.M., Oct. 19.—(AP)—There's a studios crowd hanging around the Hobbes Junior High school. And you might say he gave Deloris Apple the bird.

Ordinarily, in advertising a motion picture... every effort is made to display it as dramatically and sensationally as possible...with the most eye-attracting pictures and words...

But "Sunset Boulevard" is no ordinary motion picture. To tell its story in the usual way would surely detract from your fullest enjoyment of it.

The story of "Sunset Boulevard" belongs to young Joe Gillis, movie writer... of Hollywood. It is the story of Joe and two loves. Betty Schaefer, young, fresh and wholesome—the kind he dreamed about back in Dayton. The other, Norma Desmond, a different kind—with a "pay-off" at the end... that makes one of the most sensational climaxes ever filmed.

Only young Joe Gillis knows the whole, wild story of No. 10086 Sunset Boulevard...and only he can tell it... And tell it he does...in a way you will long remember.

M'Arthur, Truman Agree On Formosa

General Reported To Say Korea Safe From Russia

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was reported today to have expressed the strong belief, at the Truman-MacArthur meeting in the Pacific, that neither Communist China nor Russia will intervene in Korea.

This word came from high government officials who also said President Truman and the general agreed on all major issues confronting the United States in the Far East, including Formosa.

Word of the agreement on Formosa and other issues came from subordinates of President Truman. There was no immediate confirmation from the Tokyo headquarters of Gen. MacArthur.

So far there has been no word from the general that he has changed his mind on Formosa policy, the subject of disagreement between him and the administration recently.

In connection with the question of Chinese or Russian intervention in the Korean fighting, the officials said that a decision was reached to limit the distance from the Manchurian and Russian borders which would be occupied by United Nations forces in North Korea.

The officials told reporters that the President and his aides and "effective answers" to all of the problems raised at the Wake Island conference last week-end.

IN AGREEMENT
They explained that en route to the Pacific Island the President conferred with his advisers at Honolulu and drew up a list of vital issues on which it was desired to have MacArthur's input.

These officials said that the Formosa problem was discussed only at the personal conversation between MacArthur and Truman at Wake. After this conference, Truman told the general meeting which followed that he and MacArthur were in accord on Formosa and that it would be unnecessary to discuss it further.

The White House had objected to a MacArthur statement two months ago that Formosa, refuge of the Chinese Nationalist government, was essential to American defence in the Far East.

Store Union Asks For Certification
TORONTO, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Local 1000 of the Department Store Employees' Union (DSEU) yesterday applied to the Ontario Labor Relations Board for certification as bargaining agent for retail and mail order employees of the T. Eaton Company Ltd. The union claimed 50 per cent of 11,000 eligible workers are members of the union.

A FREE HAND
Montreal, it was understood, now is virtually certain to be the scene of the final proceedings in the dispute that brought on a nine-day strike of 15,000 rail workers last August.

There was a possibility that some of the final hearings might be open to the public—at least those of government conciliation boards that investigated the issue early this year—but this point has not been settled.

The government has given Mr. Justice Kellock a free hand in settling that and other points of procedure.

Russ Orthodox Church To Centre In Edmonton

Edmonton is to become the headquarters of the Moscow-directed Russian Orthodox Church in Canada.

A two-day meeting of 60 Alberta leaders of the church with two U.S. delegates this week resulted in plans to centre the Church organization solidly behind the authority of Patriarch Alexei of Moscow.

The Patriarch will appoint a bishop from among "several candidates" in the U.S. and Russia proper to come here as head of the Canadian diocese and take up residence in a cathedral to be built in 1961.

ADMINISTRATOR
Until the arrival of the bishop, an administrator, also to be appointed by Patriarch Alexei, will lead the church in Canada. One of the American delegates, Father John Loposinsky of Philadelphia, was nominated for the position.

A former Edmontonian, he left the city in 1953 to take Russian Orthodox Church training in the U.S.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose. Then he waved both ears around and around and, while standing on a flat stump that was like a picnic table, Uncle Wiggily shouted:

"I am now going to tell you the great frog race. Attention, please, everybody. Listen to me! But no one would be quiet and Miss Mouse said:

"I will make them keep quiet for you, Uncle Wiggily."

"How can you?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"I shall ring the recess bell," replied Miss Mouse.

So she rang the bell.

"Ding Dong! Ding Dong! Ding Dong!"

Then the boys and girls, suddenly thinking they must go in school from recess, suddenly grew very quiet. So that you could have heard a pin drop—that is if you had dropped a pin.

"Now, Uncle Wiggily, you may speak," said Miss Mouse as she stood a new bow in the green ribbon on her tail.

"Thank you," said the rabbit gentleman.

Then Uncle Wiggily said:

"I now tell you that Bully and Dawly No Tail won the frog race. They both together, and at the same time, hopped three times around the circle. They started at the white stone and they came back to the white stone together at the same time so they are the winners of the race."

"Hey, what about me?" croaked Juggo the big green frog who had been found in the grate by Cousin Jumper, the country rabbit. "What about me? Didn't I win?"

"No, my friend, I am sorry to say you did not win," replied Uncle Wiggily. "You jumped up and down instead of hopping around the circle. You were supposed to run or jump around the little three land backward. Bully and Dawly were to run around the same circle, only they went forward. Bully and Dawly did it as they were supposed to do. But you, Juggo, you just jumped up and down like a jumping jack."

"Oh dear me! I made a mistake!" croaked the big, green frog. "I thought this was to be a jumping up and down race."

"No, I'm sorry, but it was not that kind of a race," said Uncle Wiggily.

Then, as evening was coming on, everyone left the school yard. Uncle Wiggily hopped home to his hollow stump bungalow. But, after supper, Mr. No Tail, the dandy of Bully and Dawly, came hopping over to the bungalow. And he shouted:

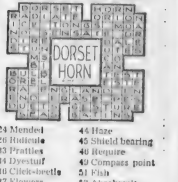

"Uncle Wiggily! Uncle Wiggily! Please come to my house quick. Bully and Dawly are jumping up and down on their beds something wonderful! Hurry please, Uncle Wiggily, and find out why my trouble boys are jumping up and down on their beds."

Uncle Wiggily hurried. And tomorrow I will tell you what happened next if the sofa pillow doesn't go to sleep and fall off the baby's Juggo the big green frog who had
